BARGES MENACED

Firemen Powerless to Aid as Flames Spread.

Gasoline towboat, "Alice," and a floating derrick, owned by the East Liverpool Sand company were destroyed while seven barges were menaced by fire, while anchored near the foot of Babb's Island in the Ohio river at 6:15 o'clock last night. The loss, estimated at approximately $23,000, is covered by insurance.

Barges Cut Loose. The blaze broke out after Boone Riffle, 48, nightwatchman on the fleet, dropped his lantern on the oil and gasoline-soaked floor of the tow-boat which was moored the derrick boat and barges, two of which were

In less than ten minutes they recalled him. The faces of the directors were flushed; but their jaws were They permitted Merriwether to speak, and the man's rasping, unpleasant voice cut through the smokeladen air of the directors' room.

"We've talked this thing over Borden We know that you didn't steal those bonds-and we know that Terry We sympathize with your feelings regarding this young man. But there is a practical limit to that sympathy. This, then, is what we have determined to do-in protection of our own interests: We will give you precisely 72 hours to return those bonds to us. Three days."

Borden's eyes closed-then opened

"And if I cannot?"

"In that case," snapped Merriwether, 'we will swear out a warrant for Terry's arrest. And we'll damned well see that he is convicted.'

My Dear Bob: Will you be kind enough to see me for a few minutes tonight? I shall expect you at eight o'clock.

Sincerely,

PETER BORDEN. Bob Terry re-read the letter for the

I dozenth time. It was disturbing in its calm assurance—and by the same token, it irritated. Why should Borden make a request and take for granted that he would accede? He walked into Kathleen's office and placed the paper before her.

She read it and looked up casually "Of course you'll go, won't you?" "Why should I?"

She smiled, "The question is, Why Bob frowned. "I-I don't under-

"It might—"

"Listen to me, Bob; you owe him a hearing. After all, he is going to bear the brunt of this. You say that you are safe-that they couldn't find the bonds or prove that you took them. Mr. Borden is facing financial ruin, and that means a great deal to a man

"You should be feeling very well today, Terry."

"Yes sir." "I understand that there was a considerable commotion at the directors' meeting this morning. They gave Borden three days to produce the bonds.'

Bob's eyes lighted, "Did they think he stole them?"

"Certainly not. But that doesn't matter to Jonas Merriwether. He would part with both eyes with better grace than with a hundred thousand dollars." "What will they do-to Mr. Bor-into a smile. It suited his purpose to conceal the truth from this gullible young man.

"They don't figure you in the mat-ter at all. You are absolutely safe."

Bob breathed deeply. "I'm glad to hear you say that, Mr. Carmody. I was frightened." He moved out of the office, and Carmody stared after him. Then the thin, dynamic man walked into the private office of Whispering Willie Weaver. The giant, bald-headed man, arose to greet his chief. His voice came in a hoarse croak.

"Merriwether's raising hell, John. "Against Borden?"

"Going to send Borden up?" "Hell, no. He's going to light on the kid, Terry. They all know he stole

"Good!" Carmody leaned forward tentesly. "Keep Mulcahy on the job, Willie. Find out where Terry has those bonds. Some bank vallt, I suppose-and under an assumed name. Ought to be easy to get the low down on it. Tip me off. I'll see that Merri-wether finds out."

Willie grinned. "Sure hate that kid, don't you, John?"
"Draw your own conclusions, Wil-

But don't draw them out loud. All during that afternoon Bob Terry was torn by indecision. He prayed for sufficient strength to refuse Bor-den's request for an interview, yet all the time he knew that he would go. And five minutes after eight o'clock he passed through the front door of the big house.

Louis was standing on the stairway as Bob entered. She looked exquisite ly dainty in her dress of clinging white, and her eyes seemed unusually large and bright. Bob stood motionless, starting at her, reading the plea in her wide-open blue eyes. Then she turned, without a word or gesture of greeting, and moved upstairs. Bob tossed his hat on the console and proceeded to the library.

Peter Borden rose to greet him. At first sight of the man, Bob was shocked. Borden was visibly older. There were lines in his face which had never been there. The habitual sureness was gone. He seemed queerly courageous at that moment, and Bob did not ex perience any of the triumphant thrill that he had anticipated.

After all, this was the moment for which Bob had prayed ever since the drab day when Borden's clear-spoken testimony had consigned him to the state penitentiary in punishment for a crime of which he was innocent. He had counted the hours against this hour; dreamed of the time when Borden would cringe before him. He had broken the man. At least he had come near to felling him with a single blow. But Borden was not cringing. He met Bob's eyes squarely and in kindly fashion. He motioned the young man to a chair and seated himself opposite. Then a long silence prevailed; Borden's eyes focussed reprovingly on Bob's face.

Bob figeted. His nerves were tightstrung; he finally broke the silence.

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for per-sistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing ele-ments which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. #### Astounding Baseball Trade

Stunned baseball fans and sports writers were scratching their heads and searching in vain today for some explanation of the astounding baseball trade which sent Roger Hornsby, the great Rajah of the national pastime, from the New York Giants to the Boston Braves in exchange for two ordinary players, Catcher Frank Hogan and Outfielder Jimmy Welsh.

Analyzed from all standpoints, the deal appears to be to the advantage of the Hub team, to be piloted in 1928 by Jack Slattery, which needs bolstering in order to attract a merrier clicking of the turnstiles. For the Braves acquire a man once voted the "most valuable player" in his league and who is recognized as the best second baseman in the Heydler circuit.

According to the New York management, "Hornsby was traded for the best interests of the Giants," which implies that stories of dissension in the ranks of the McGraw clan last year were more than mere rumors. And, too, Hornsby's legal difficulties, over an alleged gambling debt, as well as his refusal to sell his stock in the St. Louis Cardinals until he got his price, probably were factors in prompting the action of the Gotham club.

Perhaps the deal will prove a good one for both clubs, for it should help to drag Boston off the rocks financially, while the Giants have acquired two men who may add playing strength and certainly will work more harmoniously with their team mates.

Magical Motoring

A writer named Chester L. Saxby, blest with imagination, sings in the American Motorist a rare rhapsody on the wonder and joy of driving at night.

He tells of the thrill of being "lost on a road miserably familiar in the daytime, at a spot barely seven miles from your doorstep,' and the enchantment of speeding along in the dark "on byways where woods creep close to wall you in, where sound is fragmentary and nameless, and every pale pond is an unwinking, wondering

The hum of the motor sings of power, greater power than ever it knew in the daytime, pletely entranced by the ookie-ickle ments come from Paris and has long delicious and delirious power to the man who owns it.

"You think serene and noble thoughts while slipping over the hills at night, if you have quiet companions and if you think at all. Soundless the springs lift and fall, like mute music deep inside. A million sleepy voices whisper vaguely in spread branches, croak those vaselined young men with imin gossamer lakes with their silver spangles, chitter, hum and mobile expressions who clipped his tinkle distantly the echo of contentment."

"Black magic in the smoky darkness out yonder," he concludes.

Night driving in the past has been feared and shunned by motorists, wherein they may have missed the finest part of motoring. Those who have been initiated often come to prefer it to day driving, when they can choose. There may be a great deal world "a smart kid." And give her a more of it hereafter, particularly by tourists, in the country and in the solitude of forests and mountains.

More Air Mail Lines

On February 1, further air mail service will be opened. The National Air Transport, Inc., will start night flying over its Chi cago-Dallas line. This will speed up all mail and express between Texas and Minnesota, benefiting big and little communities all along the route.

This is interesting in itself. It more interesting in the developing plan it reveals for establishing an air mail service between the cities in this country and old Mexico. Negotiations between postal officials of both countries are to start soon. Such a route will cut down the mail time between New York and Mexico City from four to two days.

Pioneering used to move west from the east. Air pioneering moves in all directions and shows no favoritism to any section.

A Woman Architect

From London comes the news that a woman, 29 years old, has won the contest for the plans for a Shakespeare Memorial theatre at Stratford-on-Avon. This practically unknown woman won over more than 70 male British architects who had entered plans in the same competition. The winning design has not yet been made public.

Whether her plans are really the best, and a young genius has sprung to fame in England, remains to be seen. An art museum director once confessed to a lecture audience that second-rate pictures sometimes win first prize because the committee of judges can't choose among two or three first-rate ones, so they compromise. Something of the sort may have happened in this case. But in any event it is a fine boost for women architects. They are new in that profession.

Every known resource of scientific knowledge has been used in studying the minds, emotions, nerves physical equipment, heredity, and personal history of those unfit, ill-adapt whole study has led to the conclusion that it is useless to punish or to undertake to reform criminals. Crime Is Still Increasing.

In stating his belief that punitive ds of dealing with crime have failed, Dr. Hickson asks that he be not misunderstood. He holds no brief for uniformed sentimentality toward crime and criminals, he says. He be-lieves that while a humane attitude is to be commended, unenlightened good-will is often worse than useless tained, he says, gives no warrant fo allowing criminals to remain at large The fact that crime is increasing is cited as daily proof that all the ma chinery of the punitive system is in adequate and has failed. Society' real problem is to stop crime, rather than to avenge or punish it.

"Criminals are constitutionally de fective," says the doctor, basing that finding on twelve years' examination of 40,000 criminals. "Defectives, and the inferior or semi-defective classes generally , from which criminals are bred, reproduce at a much faster rate than normal or superior individuals The modern organization of life, par ticularly in America with its great economic surplus, enables more of the inferior and the unfit to survive and propagate than ever before.

Dr. Hickson says it has been estinated that about two per cent of our population is mentally defective and statistics show that about two per cent becomes criminal. Investigation demonstrates that this is not a coincidence but a correlation. It is the same two per cent. two per cent absorbs about 35 per cent or more of the gross taxes and keeps the other 98 per cent of the people on the anxious seat most of the time.

What proportional voting and basing the granting of the franchise on although Dr. Hickson did not explain his suggestion—is that every man and woman who wants to vote must subfound to be normal would be given one vote. Those who proved themselves not only to be normal mentally but to possess a higher degree of intelligence would be given two votes The next higher grade as established by the tests would have three votes. and so on. It has been suggested, also, that individuals of exceptional attainments in the professional, scientific, or business world should be given a number of votes commensurate with their preeminence over ordinary people-100 or even 1000.

Such a system, admittedly, would transform a democracy into an intellectual oligarchy. A relatively small percentage of the population would rule, but in justification of such an overturn of majority rule it is claimed that the intellectuals would direct public affairs more to the advantage and betterment of the masses than the masses themselves have been able to work out the problems of government and administration.

It is also pointed out that the masses are always ruled by one kind of oligarchy or another, be it monarchial or hereditary, financial, or communistic, and proponents of the new idea insist that it would not be a bad experiment to give the intellectual oligarchy a try-out. Results, they say could not be worse than the world has suffered, and they might prove to be much better. With the right to vote based on the intelligence quotient it is to be assumed that everybody who had it would exercise it. That in itself would be a marked improvement over the present system, since barely 50 per cent of those who can vote, do so,

APPEAL DENIED

An appeal was refused yesterday by the state supreme court at Charleston in the case from the Ohio county Circuit court involving a note for $15 690 given by John A. Bell, Carnegie Pa., banker declared bankrupt and given a jail sentence for responsibility in the collapse of the Carnegie Trust company. The note was given by Bell to the National Bank of Clays ville, Pa., to conclude the sale of coal property to James A. Prisley, Cleve-land coal operator, and head of the corporation which controls the Elm Grove Mining company.

A. Williams, partner of Bell and Mr. Paisley filed suit to enjoin James B. Riley, trustee of the Claysville bank, from sale of certain coal lands. It was held by the court that Bell was not a proper defendant.

The case was carried to the state supreme court on appeal and has been turned back by the higher court.

WELLSVILLE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OUTLINES 1928 PLANS

60 MEMBERS The Old Home Town— ATTEND DINNER IN HOTEL HERE

President C. J. Vogel Reviews Activities During Year.

NAME COMMITTEE General Election of Officers Will be Held Feb. 14.

A general feeling of optimism for 1928 pervaded ranks of Wellsville Chamber of Commerce members and their guests as they attended the organization's annual banquet last night in the Riverview hotel here.

That the outlook for the coming year shows considerable improvement over that which recently came to an end, was the consensus of opinion of officials and members of the body who discussed various angles of Wellsville civic and commercial enterprises following the dinner.

President C. J. Vogel was in charge of the meeting. After naming his nominating committee, he announced that the general election of officer's will be held on February 14 and that 30 days prior to that date names of candidates will be revealed to the membership for consideration.

Special guests included Common
Pieas Judge W. F. Lones; Frank Swaney, East Liverpool, manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., here; N. E. Frederick, Wellsville, engineer for the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction Co.; Ralph Couch, East Liverpool, manager of the Ohio Power Combany branch; William E. Knox, Charles Warner and Elmer Moore, officials of the American Sheet

& Tin Plate plant here.

During a discussion of policies, the chamber decided to reduce the num-In reviewing briefly the work of the chamber, President Vogel pointed out that the organization had considered 14 minor propositions and six major projects.

The Cawood Foundry proposal among the first taken up by the chamber, failed, he said, when the foundry owners remained in East Liverpool.

The city's industrial survey, he announced, had been completed by Dandridge Spotswood, at a cost of $1,000 and copies of the survey will be sold at $2 each. The survey classifies all the city's resources and assets and, in the opinion of members and officers of the chamber, forms a valuable compendium of facts for future operforward to 1928 optimistically.

Vogel also made clear that the chamber had worked tirelessly in the interests of the city and while nothing definite had been accomplished until the present, the future looked brighter than the past.

Mayor W. L. Fogo urged co-opera tion in putting over the proposed B. D. Beacom Memorial hospital building, and also that the chamber's proposed extension of the Salineville-Wellsville bus line to East Liverpool. Judge Lones declared that citizens should be appreciative of the chamber's activities and that the organiza-tion was certainly laying a solid foundation for the future welfare of the

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11 .- Fearing hat "mawkish sentimentalism" may develop in such strength as to save William Edward Hickman from the gallows, a movement was under way here today to counteract this influence and make certain that the youthful kidnaper and slayer of Marion Parker will pay the extreme penalty for his crime The movement started in a woman's organization known as the "Cosmos lub." The club has gone on record protesting "the many efforts which are being made to save this criminal from capital punishment."

The resolution asked the co-operation of the district Federation of Women's clubs. Thursday the president's counsel of clubwomen, meeting at Pasadena, will be asked to act on the resolution. The council is representa-live of nearly 300 women's clubs of outhern California, having a memberhip of 40,000.

Hickman was examined for more than an hour late yesterday by Dr. M. Fettis of Sioux City, Ia., detense medical expert. The prisoner was both questioned and subjected to medical examination. The latter in-cluded examination of Hickman's pinal fluid.

Receipt of a letter signed "Andrew Cramer," in which the writer asserted responsibility for the mutilation of the Parker girl, brought from Hickman the observation that "that guy is crazier than I am." The letter was sent from

KEEP SECRET OF "GORILLA"

Request Made to Patrons of Ceramic Theatre.

Patrons of the Ceramic theatre are being asked by the management not to divulge the mystery of "The Gorilla, the picturization of the celebrated Ralph Spence mystery comedy, which opened a four-day run today.

By this means it is hoped to give movie-goers the fullest enjoyment possible from the picture. It is also another the division of the picture of the picture of the picture.

movie-goers the fullest enjoyment possible from the picture. It is also aunounced that during the last five minutes of the picture, during which the mystery is disclosed, all newly arrived patrons will be asked to refrain from watching the screen.

From the time the filming of the picture was first started in Hollywood the utmost caution was used to keep the identity of "The Gorilla" a complete secret. Edward Small, the producer; Alfred Santell, the director, and the writers were the only ones who really knew how the picture would end. In order to make it all the more difficult, the ending was changed from that of the stage play, so those who saw the original stage offering can join the rest in trying to solve the plot.

It is said that during the production of "The Gorilia" not even Mulligan and Garrity, the two correspondence school detectives, played by Charhe Murray and Fred Kelsey, knew who the real culprit was until the final denouement.

An all-star cast includes Charlle Murray, Fred Kelsey, Alice Day, Tuly Marshall, Claude Gillingwater, Gaston Gass, Aggle Herring, Brooks Benedict and Syd. Crossly.

"The Gorilla" was directed by Alfred Santell and is presented by Asher, Small and Rogers for First National Pictures.

Father John's Medicine overcomes Weakness and builds up flesh and strength.

Too often little lives are sacrificed to thoughtlessness or neglect. Colds are allowed to hang on. The strain of school days weakens frail systems, paleness and thinness develop and when a serious illness comes precious lives are placed needlessly in danger.

Watch your little ones. See that they increase in weight, that they are protected against severe weather, that they are free from colds.

Sport World Jolted By Hornsby's Trade To Boston Braves

Sudden Deal Puzzle Fans

Done for "Best Interests of Giants," Declares McGraw.

By Les Conklin. NEW YORK, Jan. 11.-"Rogers Hornsby was traded for the best interests of the Giants." This cryptic sentence was the only official explanation given today for the most astounding trade in modern baseball history, a trade which last night sent the best second baseman in the National league from New York to Boston in exchange for two ordinary players, Catcher Frank Hogan and Outfielder Jimmy Welsh. No cash was involved in the deal,

The bare and meaningless announce ment given out by the New York club stated that Manager John J. McGraw and President Charles A. Stoneham, "having in mind what we thought to be the best interests of the Giants," had traded Hornsby "after due deliberation." They declined to elaborate on the announcement, interpretation of which bids fair to cause as much speculation in the sporting world as President Coolidge aroused in the political world by his famous "I do not choose to run in 1928."

Stunned baseball fans and sports writers, searching for the colored gentleman in the woodpile, today advanced the following possible explanations for the virtual dismissal of the Giants' Sport Whiters' Reasons.

1. That Hornsby talked too much last year in telling friends what he would do when he became manager of the Giants, following the expected re-tirement of McGraw.

2. That the New York club wearled of Hornsby's legal difficulties. After refusing to sell his stock in the St. Louis Cardinals until he got his price, Hornsby was the winner of a suit for $94,000 recently brought against him by Frank Moore, Cincinnati betting commissioner, for an alleged gamb-

That the trade was a philanthro pic gesture to strengthen the Braves. who are on the rocks financially and have been playing to crowds no larger than a church congregation on a good golfing Sunday.

The last explanation was deemed the most plausible one of the lot. The New York club frequently has played Santa Claus to the Braves in past trades. Instead of being made for the best interests of the Giants, the Strengthened by the great Rajah, the Braves should perk up and draw huge

Slattery is happy. Certainly Jack Slattery, Boston's new manager, must be convinced to-day that there is a Santa Claus; after all. He is getting a fighter-player who led the Giants through the thick of the pennant fight last season and batted 361, a mark bettered only by Paul Waner. Slattery loses Hogan.
Who hit only .288 last season, and Braves, revealed today how he ob- Sharkey is. The commission certainly Welsh, who batted .287.

Hornsby, classed by many observers as the greatest batsman of all time, led the National league in batting for six consecutive years. In 1922 he clouted 42 home runs, a league record. McGraw has acquired a much-needed catcher and outfielder, but he will have to make another deal for a second baseman to replace Hornshy un-less he elects to take a chance on or some other rookie. McGraw may ton and says he will give us his best."

There is a slight divergence in opin-

New York fans. But one man's wood alcohol is another man's Scotch, for Boston fans are already claiming a first division berth.

Worse Than

Rumor Heeney Has Left His Fight in Gymnasium.

2-1 Favorite

By Davis I. Walsh.

N EW YORK, Jan. 11.—In spite of the fact that the last seen of Jack Sharkey in these parts he was writhing in touching agony upon a ring floor of a late July evening convulsed and distrait after the man ner of a humming bird that just had swallowed a boxing glove, the low down today was that the modern De mosthenes would be no worse than a 2 to 1 favorite over Tom Heeney on Friday night. No, they haven't seen much of our John around here and apparently he means to have them see even less until such time as they pay $22.50 for the privilege.

This ordinarily would be a circumstance to view with vast alarm but the sharpshooters are taking it right in stride. The story is that they don't have to see Sharkeey to peg this one. It seems that they have seen Heeney.

Heeney Going Back.

According to the best minds, Heeney was a much beter fighter a month ago than he is today. They say he has left his fight in the gymnasium, that he is stale, torpid, stodgy, pep-less and has become subject to a receding forehead. They say he can't fight at all and that really isn't enough. It won't beat Sharkey, even a Sharkey who must undergo a coroner's inquest before the state athletic commission even will let him start.

In view of these circumstances, which are offered for what they may be worth, although frankly I think I should get more than that for them, it wouldn't be anybody's amazement Sharkey went in there on Friday a 13 to 5 favorite.

INDIGESTION SPOILS YOUR LIFE

How to End Stomach Troubles

Although indigestion may not be chronic with many people, it is suprising how even slight pains or feelings of fullness after eating steal much of life's sparkle and happiness. Perhaps I remained in Maben for two weeks you scarcely notice it in the early stages, but remember indigestion never cures itself and usually gets worse

The safest, surest and easiest way to end indigestion, heartburn or flatu-lence is to take a little "Pape's Diapepsin" after meals or whenever pain is felt. This quickly stops your disand at the same time soothes, heals

Unusual Performance of 'Red Head' is Reported.

Reports of unusual performance re-sulting from the use the "Red-Head" high compression engine have been reaching the Chrysler Sales corporation in large numbers ever since its introduction early last summer, according to advices received by the

E. Eppley Motor Sales company. Enthusiasm over the pleasures of driving under modern power conditions is expressed. Chrysler officials say, in letters received from owners in practically every part of the Union and also in reports by dealers of comments made to them by those who have tried out high compression equipment on their cars.

"Commendation for the Red Head coming to us is so widespread in its origin and is couched in such emphatic terms that it constitutes the strongest ance of the new type automobile en-gine," says J. W. Fraber, Chrysler sales manager. "It bears out by practical test every expectation we have formed of the improved performance that would result from taking full advantage of high compression fuels. Without exception, owners of Chrysler Red Head engines who write us com-ment on the remarkable increase in speed, power and acceleration and on the great improvement in hill climb-ing ability of their cars, which were exactly the result we anticipated when we led the way into the high compres-sion field."
